

There still isn't 100% compliance in captioning in the news such as weather. I would like to see more compliance in the movie theaters. At the moment there is some captions, but only on Sunday thru Tuesday with limited theaters. It would be great to require more captioning through all the public forums such as airports, train stations, and malls so to get important messages across to the public as well as HOH and deaf.